From Tuesday May 3, to Saturday May 7, 1763.

St. James's, May 7.

THE following Addreſs of the Court of Directors of the United Company of Merchants of England trading to the Eaſt Indies, has been preſented to His Majeſty: Which Addreſs His Majeſty was pleaſed to receive very graciouſly.

To the King's moſt Excellent Majeſty,

The humble Addreſs of the Court of Directors of the United Company of Merchants of England trading to the Eaſt Indies.

Moſt gracious Sovereign,

WE your Majeſty's loyal and faithful Subjects, the Directors of the United Company of Merchants of England trading to the Eaſt Indies, humbly beg Leave to congratulate your Majeſty on the happy Concluſion of a long and burthenſome, though glorious and ſucceſsful, War.

The Re eſtabliſhment of Peace is an Event that cannot be unintereſting to any of your Majeſty's Subjects; but the peculiar Attention your Majeſty has on this Occaſion been pleaſed to beſtow on the Intereſts of that great Branch of the National Commerce which we have the Honour to conduct, calls upon us in particular for our juſt Tribute of humble and grateful Acknowledgment. When we reflect on the Viciſſitudes we have experienced during the laſt eighteen Years, for ſo long has the Company been engaged in an hoſtile Competition with the French in India, we cannot but rejoice in a State of Superiority and Security, which the Succeſſes of the Britiſh Arms, and the Wiſdom and Firmneſs of your Majeſty's Councils, have at length obtained and eſtabliſhed. We feel, and ſhall always retain, the moſt grateful Senſe of the Support and Protection of Government during the War, by which the Company's Affairs Abroad have been recovered from a more deſperate to a more proſperous Condition than has ever been known at any former Period.

We humbly entreat of your Majeſty a Continuance of the ſame gracious and neceſſary Support and Protection; and beg Leave to aſſure your Majeſty, that we will aſſiduouſly labour to preſerve and improve the Advantages of our preſent Situation, and to render that invaluable Trade, which in all Ages has given Opulence and Power to the Nations that have ſucceſſively enjoyed it, more extenſively beneficial to the whole Community.

The following Addreſs of the Lord Lieutenant, Noblemen, Juſtices of the Peace, Officers of Militia, Gentlemen, Clergy, and Freeholders of the County of Huntingdon, has been preſented to His Majeſty by his Grace the Duke of Manchester, Lord Lieutenant of the ſaid County, accompanied by the Earl of Sandwich, and the Right Honourable Lord Charles Greville Montagu, and the Right Honourable Lord Carysfort, Repreſentatives in Parliament for the ſaid County Couſſon Fellowes and Charles Proby, Eſqrs. Which Addreſs His Majeſty was pleaſed to receive very graciouſly.

To the King's moſt Excellent Majeſty,

The humble Addreſs of the Lord Lieutenant, Noblemen, Juſtices of the Peace, Officers of Militia, Gentlemen, Clergy, and Freeholders of the County of Huntingdon, aſſembled at the General Quarter Seſſions of the Peace holden at Huntingdon by Adjournment, the thirtieth Day of April, One thouſand ſeven hundred and ſixty three.

Moſt gracious Sovereign,

WE your Majeſty's moſt loyal and dutiful Subjects, the Lord Lieutenant, Noblemen, Juſtices of the Peace, Officers of Militia, Gentlemen, Clergy, and Freeholders of the County of Huntingdon, beg Leave to expreſs the juſt and grateful Senſe which we have of your Majeſty's Goodneſs to your People, in delivering them, by a Seaſonable, Safe, and Honourable Peace, from the heavy Burthens and Calamities of War. For though the Succeſs of the Britiſh Arms has been Great and Glorious in every Part of the World, yet its requiſite and neceſſary Support became almoſt too grievous for the Landed Intereſt of the Nation. Confident of your Majeſty's Care and Attention to the Welfare and Eaſe of all your Subjects, we firmly rely on your Majeſty's Reſolution and Perſeverance to ſurmount all Obſtructions that may check your Majeſty's good Intentions, and are fully ſatisfied, that your Majeſty will purſue ſuch Meaſures as may tend to the Leſſening the heavy Burthens brought on us by the Expences of the War, and be moſt conducive to the Advancement of Trade and Commerce, and to the Security of thoſe Bleſſings that will make your Majeſty's Name always dear to your People, and for ever memorable in the Annals of Hiſtory.

May your Majeſty's Reign be long and happy, and may it be no leſs diſtinguiſhed by the Cultivation of the Arts of Peace than it has already been by Thoſe of War; and may the Religion and Liberties of Great Britain be Sacred and Inviolate, under the conſtant Protection of your Majeſty and your Royal Houſe, till Time ſhall be no more.

The following Addreſs of the Mayor, Aldermen, and Capital Burgeſſes of the Borough of Banbury, has been preſented to His Majeſty by the Right Honourable Lord North, their Repreſentative in Parliament, and Frederick Montagu, Eſq; Recorder of the ſaid Borough, being introduced by the Lord of His Majeſty's Bed-Chamber in Waiting: Which Addreſs

[Price Three Pence.]

Addreſs His Majeſty was pleaſed to receive very graciouſly.

To the King's moſt Excellent Majeſty.

Moſt gracious Sovereign,

WE your Majeſty's moſt loyal and dutiful Subjects, the Mayor, Aldermen, and Capital Burgeſſes of the antient Borough of Banbury, beg Leave to approach your Throne, and to congratulate your Majeſty on the Reſtoration of the Publick Tranquillity to theſe Kingdoms and to all Europe.

Your Majeſty's victorious Arms have been carried to every Part of the Globe; your Fleets and Armies have triumphed wherever the Wiſdom of your Counſels directed them to operate: Yet the Number of your Conqueſts could not make you forget the Effuſion of human Blood, and the Burthens of your People; your Majeſty had Conſtancy enough to keep your Attention fixed on the true Object of all War, and you have attained it by a Juſt, Honourable, and Advantageous Peace.

We entirely rely upon your Majeſty's Wiſdom, that the Reſources happily preſerved to theſe Nations by the ſeaſonable Concluſion of the late War, and the important Acquiſitions made by the Treaty of Verſailles, will be improved to the laſting Benefit of your Subjects.

The Diminution of the immenſe Load of the Publick Debts, the Support and Extenſion of Commerce, and a Variety of domeſtick Regulations, will now claim your Royal Care and Attention.

We beg Leave to aſſure your Majeſty, that we ſhall always perſevere, as faithful Subjects, in a modeſt Obedience to the Laws, in a conſtant Attachment to our excellent Conſtitution, and in every Sentiment of Duty and Gratitude to the beſt of Kings and the Father of His People.

Given under our Common Seal, this 28th Day of April, in the Year of our Lord, 1763.

The following Addreſs of the Mayor, Recorder, Aldermen, Bailiffs, Burgeſſes and Commonalty of the Borough of New Windſor in the County of Berks, has been preſented to His Majeſty by the Right Honourable the Lord Vere, being introduced by the Lord of His Majeſty's Bed-chamber in Waiting: Which Addreſs His Majeſty was pleaſed to receive very graciouſly.

To the King's moſt Excellent Majeſty,

The humble Addreſs of the Mayor, Recorder, Aldermen, Bailiffs, Burgeſſes, and Commonalty of the Borough of New Windſor in the County of Berks.

WE, your Majeſty's moſt dutiful and faithful Subjects, embrace the Opportunity given us, by the Concluſion of a Peace ſo Honourable to the Crown and Beneficial to the Nation, to declare, that we ſurvey with Pleaſure, and reflect with Gratitude, to what a Stupendous Height the Glories of your Majeſty's Reign have been advanced, and what a Series of Conqueſts have followed your Arms, and thereby the Renown of Great Britain raiſed to the Pinacle of Power.

This your Enemies beheld with Terror, and all Europe with Wonder.

Your Commanders by Sea and Land have been illuſtrious Examples to prove, how far an ardent Love to their Sovereign, as Protector of the Liberties of Europe, and a Roman Regard for their Country, exerted like theirs, can advance the Dignity of the one, and the Felicity of the other: So that at the Cloſe of this War, well might Humanity, as the Characteriſtic and Herald of Great Britain, proclaim, Enough of Conqueſts, Enough of Glory.

Your Majeſty, not to be moved by Ambition, but ſtruck by the Calamities of a long War, was attentive to this Call, and that of your own Royal Breaſt, and exerted your Royal Prerogative in concluding ſuch a Peace as we expected, and which hath juſtly met with the Unanimous Approbation of Parliament, and the entire Suffrage of all the diſcerning Part of your People; and hath already had Influence enough to diffuſe the Bleſſings of Peace amongſt the other contending Powers of Europe.

And now permit us, Royal Sir, to unite in the Wiſh of all your loyal Subjects, that by a Peace ſo happily eſtabliſhed, and the Advantages ſtipulated thereby, and the due Improvements of them, the Commerce of theſe Kingdoms may be carried to the Extent of the Conqueſts.

And that Peace and Concord, ſo eſſential to our Happineſs, and to the Fruits of the Publick Peace, may with equal Care and Anxiety be propagated throughout the Kingdom; and to aſſure your Majeſty the utmoſt Attention of this Antient and Royal Borough ſhall be given to promote and attain this moſt neceſſary Royal Recommendation from the Throne.

Given under our Common Seal, in our Council Chamber, this Thirtieth Day of April, One thouſand ſeven hundred and ſixty-three.

The following Addreſs of the Provoſt, Magiſtrates and Town Council of the Burgh of Nairn, has been preſented to His Majeſty by Sir Alexander Grant, Bart. their Repreſentative in Parliament, being introduced by the Lord of His Majeſty's Bed-Chamber in Waiting: Which Addreſs His Majeſty was pleaſed to receive very graciouſly.

To the King's moſt Excellent Majeſty,

The humble Addreſs of the Provoſt, Magiſtrates and Town Council of the Burgh of Nairn.

Moſt Gracious Sovereign,

WE, your Majeſty's moſt dutiful and loyal Subjects, the Provoſt, Magiſtrates and Town Council of Nairn, moſt humbly beg Leave to congratulate your Majeſty, upon your having wiſely and opportunely put an End to a Glorious War, by an Honourable and Advantageous Peace. A Peace, we beg Leave to ſay, fully correſpondent, by Security and Acquiſition of Territory, to the amazing Succeſs, with which Heaven was pleaſed to bleſs your Majeſty's Arms; and wiſely concluded, to ſpare Blood and Treaſure, when Victory had blazed forth, in Meridian Splendor, to the Confuſion of an unprovoked, but formidable Enemy.

Permit us, Dread Sovereign, to admire, with Pleaſure, your Royal Fortitude and Magnanimity, in conducting a moſt extenſive and perilous War; your Wiſdom and Humanity, in giving Peace to your Kingdoms, and to a bleeding World; and finally, your Paternal Care, in ſecuring the Rights and Liberties of your Subjects.

May your Majeſty be bleſſed with laſting and uninterrupted Comfort, Pleaſure and Satisfaction in your Royal Conſort, Family and Government; may your Royal Progeny inherit your Virtues and Kingdoms while the World ſhall endure; and may Loyalty, Unanimity, and a firm Attachment to your moſt Illuſtrious Houſe, become, and for ever continue, the diſtinguiſhing Characteriſtick of Britiſh Subjects.

Signed in Preſence and by Appointment of Council,

Nairn, April 21, 1763. Hugh Roſe, Provoſt.

Liſbon, April 9. The Earl of Loudoun had an Audience of his moſt Faithful Majeſty on Monday laſt the 4th Inſtant, to take his Leave. The Britiſh Troops are embarking, and, it is thought, will be ready
